

Mikestan Wire & Powdercoating Limited – Website Privacy Policy

Mikestan Wire & Powdercoating Limited (Mikestan) respects your privacy and the confidentiality of your personal data, which is collected directly and indirectly when you use our website.

Your data (name, business name, phone number and email address) is collected directly when you voluntarily send us an email or enquiry by clicking our email address on our pages or by using the form on our Contact page. Mikestan collects this data solely to respond to your communications and enquiries regarding our products and services and any orders you place. Access to your information is restricted to use for these purposes only.

Your data is indirectly collected by our website via cookies, geo referencing data, widgets and Google Analytics. This information enables us to analyse the traffic to, and performance of, our website. The information is aggregated and no personal data or information about individual users is collected.